

Initial feedback received from France's national health authority HAS in relation to Theraclion's Forfait Innovation application

Theraclion to propose detailed eligibility criteria for women treated with Echopulse®

Malakoff – June 24, 2016 – Theraclion (Alternext, FR0010120402 – ALTHE, eligible for PEA PME plans), a company specialising in leading-edge medical equipment for echotherapy, today announced that on June 21, 2016, it received a request for additional information from France's national health authority HAS (Haute Autorité de Santé) relating to its application for the Forfait Innovation.

As a reminder, in January 2016, Theraclion filed an application for the Forfait Innovation, which was deemed admissible in April. Theraclion was the first company to apply for the Forfait Innovation exceptional funding mechanism, in its definitive version as set out in the government decree of February 16, 2016. The information submitted as part of the request for exceptional reimbursements has not yet resulted in a positive opinion regarding eligibility.

The request received on June 21, 2016 seeks clarification regarding the subgroup eligibility criteria of women who are treatment candidates. As a result, Theraclion is planning to update its initial application in response to the HAS opinion.
